DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Uk 615 in view of Shepard et al.

Uk 615 teaches the claimed subject matter except for showing use of temperature profile and control in the heating process. Shepard et al teach the same as conventional in glass processing and in view of this teaching it would have been obvious to modify the Uk system with the same to effect more accurate control of the process. Note that Uk does teach on page 9 line 25, maintaining of the temperature during processing.

Art Unit: 3742

Control of the power supply to the plasma torch does control the intensity of the plasma and hence the temperature of the work, as acclaimed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 18 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Uk 615'. Note Figure 8 in Uk teaches three ports, the central one for the plasma gas and the outer two for sealing gas. See page 9 lines 11 which sets forth use of ratio control between the gases, to effect control .

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-4,6-11,15 and 17 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art of record does not teach the claimed adjusting of the plasma flame size by varying the ratio of the gas flow rates.

Applicant's arguments filed 06-24-05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicants remarks referring to figures 6 and 7 in UK 615 are noted but Applicants attention is directed to figure 8 which shows three ports for plasma and shielding gases, maintenance of the temperature of the preform at a certain temperature range, varying of the ratio of the gas flows relative to each other.

See page 9, Lines 11-25. New claim 18 broadly claimed, merely teaches heating of glass with three ports and control of the gas flows. Clearly, UK 615 teaches the same since the gas ratios can be varied. The artisan is quite aware that most all gas supplies have a valve to control, the flow.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
